MORAL FORCE.

(Which the President proposes as a substitute for national defense.)

When Kelly was informed that Burke was hunting for a rock, expressing the desire, the while, to knock off Kelly's block, he said: "I have no fear of Burke, he means me ill, of course, but I shall overcome him with a little moral force."

Now Kelly is reposing on a tidy little bed.

With forty-seven stitches neatly taken in his head.

MOTTOES AND MATRIMONY.

A Pennsylvania preacher who lectured on "Love, Courtship and Marriage," told the girls to display the following mottoes on the walls of the parlor or "court" room:

"Delays Are Dangerous."
"Faint Heart Ne'er Won Fair Lady."
"Obey That Impulse."
"Do It Now."
"He Who Hesitates Is Lost."
"The Time, the Place and the Girl."

To encourage matrimony is right. But to encourage matrimony as a union of hands alone is a different proposition. More than that, the girl who attempts to drive a young man into the yoke, at times having the strenuous aid of her mother, is looking for failure.

Who not add these mottoes:
Go Slow.
Study the Man.—Commercial-Tribune.

RADICAL PREPARATION AND CONSERVATIVE ACTION.

Even the brilliant Mr. Watterson of the Courier-Journal is sometimes prone to inconsistency. A short while ago he was crying, "On to Panama," and now in referring to the dangers and evils of militarism, says:

"Are we, the American people, to be led unconsciously into adopting the gospel of war and the setting up of an all-powerful military aristocracy, as the unhappy, the unfortunate Germans were?"

From which it appears the noted editor is radical in his views on warring with Mexico, but quite conservative in the country's military preparation. It seems a better plan might be radical preparation and conservative action.—Fleming Gazette.

KEEPING MEN AT WORK.

We must organize men and women for labor as for war. Watch the perfection of the trainings and the movement of the masses that at this moment are meeting in unspeakable, infernal slaughter in Europe. See how the humblest is fitted to his task. With what ease great bodies wheel, turn, advance, retreat. Consider how, after standing men in line, that they may be knocked to pieces, they promptly and scientifically collect such as has escaped, both friend and foe, and (oh, amazing and heart breaking human logic!) under the safe sign of the cross, tenderly nurse them back to health.

If this can be done for war, should we do less for peace?—American Magazine.

A GREAT JOKESMITH.

Vice President Marshall is not so often heard from that he can afford to say things like this: "There are only two things in American life today that really count. One is the pursuit of happiness and the other is the keeping of the Democratic party in power as the surest safeguard of happiness." Perhaps this is only humor from a source so unexpected that it has been taken seriously, but, judging from the elections, it looks as if the United States can see happiness only through the elimination of the Democratic government.—San Francisco Chronicle.

THE ELECTRIC AGE.

The day when electric power, generated by steam, will be cheaper than that generated by the falling waters of streams is not far distant, in the opinion of John A. Brittan, vice president and general manager of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company of California, who appeared before the Senate Public Lands Committee to oppose the water power site leasing bill.

NEW YORK'S NEW SENATOR.

Mr. Wadsworth is a man who merits the respect and confidence of his fellow citizens without distinction of party. In breeding, in intelligence and in character he is equipped for an honest attempt to justify the high estimate of his worth which Mr. Elihu Root recorded in a remarkable letter written a week ago wherein that statesman said: "I have watched your career and I consider that, above all the other younger men who have been in American public life in recent years, you have exhibited the greatest promise of useful public service of the highest order."

UNCLE SAM MUST USE MAILED FIST IN MEXICO.

No person with sense, with any knowledge of Mexico, but knows that shipment of arms and ammunition to the hands of that country is a direct feeding of the flames of war, a furnishing of the means to murder and to rob. There is no hope of peace in Mexico save through direct action of the United States forces against the anarchistic elements now in full sway there.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

FOOLISH PHILOSOPHY.

The wisdom of the serpent consists largely in attending to its own business.

About all we know of anthropology is that the giggly age for girls corresponds to the cigarette age for boys.

As a general thing, after a candidate is elected he isn't as glad to see you as he was when he was looking for you.

If the hen were to really lay golden eggs, the rooster would start a bank account.

Remember also that almost any welcome will wear out if it is worn too long.

As a general thing, even after your sins have found you out, they haven't found much.

Even when there isn't much room at the top, a woman can put $100 worth of millinery on it.

Our idea of a lucky man is one who can get a job and wages after he has lost his situation and salary.

Knew Her Face.

There is a legend that one day a woman went to Brigham Young for counsel touching some alleged oppression by an officer of the church. Brigham, like a true politician, assumed to know her; but when it became necessary to record her case, hesitated and said:

"Let me see, sister, I-I forget your name."

"My name?" was the indignant reply; "why, I'm your wife!"

"When did I marry you?"

The woman informed the president, who referred to an account book in his desk, and then said: "Well, I believe you are right. I knew your face was familiar."

Who Are In Heaven?

A little girl asked her mother if liars ever went to heaven, and was answered, "No, I suppose not." She then asked if papa ever told a lie.

"Well," said the mother, "I suppose sometimes he does."

"Well, did you and grandpa and Uncle Jim ever tell a lie?" said the little girl.

"Yes; I suppose sometimes in our lives we have told what wasn't exactly true."

"Well," said the little girl, after deep thought, "I should think it would be awful lonesome in heaven with nobody there but just God and George Washington."

Got 'Em Yet.

Winston, a negro, was a preacher in Virginia, and his ideas of theology and human nature were often very original. A gentleman thus accosted him one Sunday:

"Winston, I understand you believe every woman has seven devils. How can you prove it?"

"Well, sph, did yo' ebber read in de Bible how de sehben debbils were cast out of Mary Magdalene?"

"Oh, yes, I've heard of that."

"Did yo' ebber hear ob dem being cast out ob any odder woman, sah?"

"No, I never did."

"Well, den, de udders got 'em yet."

BURDENS LIFTED

From Maysville Backs—Relief Proved By Lapse of Time.

Backache is a heavy burden; Nervousness, dizziness, headache. Rheumatic pain; urinary ills; All wear one out.

Often effects of kidney weakness. No use to cure the symptoms, Relief is but temporary if the cause remains.

If it's the kidneys, cure the cause. Doan's Kidney Pills are for kidney ills.

Read about your neighbor's case. Here's Maysville testimony.

The kind that can be investigated. Mrs. John E. Burns, Maysville, Ky.

says: "The statement I gave before when I publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills, still holds good. I know that this remedy is just as represented as it has been used by one of my relatives with satisfactory results. Doan's Kidney Pills were procured at Wood & Son's Drug Store."

Mrs. Burns is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Burns recommends—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. "When Your Back Is Lame—Remember the Name."

COUNTRY CHILDREN

And Their Instruction—Methods of Instruction Should Be Adapted to Their Needs and Observations.

"Country children should be taught in terms of country life," declares W. T. Hodges in a bulletin just issued by the United States Bureau of Education.

"In order to discover some of the definite things that have been done in rural public schools toward infusing into both parents and pupils the 'stay-on-the-farm' spirit, Mr. Hodges sent 3,500 letters to superintendents throughout the country who have rural schools under their supervision. From the replies many suggestions of special value have been received.

"Farm arithmetic, farm geography and textbooks in agriculture" have been secured by Berkes county, Pennsylvania. Newton county, Missouri, has succeeded in making the school a community center by having work done to supplement that done at home and by inducing patrons to visit the schools. The latter is accomplished by the "old farm wagon and big dinner" plan, whereby as many as 2,000 persons in the community have visited one school on a certain day in the year.

A teacher of Warren county, Indiana, who gave her pupils the "option of work in agriculture or Virgil," was astonished to find that in practically every instance the students took both subjects and the grades rose beyond anything before experienced.

"We have improvised domestic science teaching by means of coal oil stoves and kitchen utensils which the patrons of the school gave through a 'kitchen shower,'" says an enthusiastic teacher from Chester township, Ohio. A teacher who was not a graduate in domestic science, but who had "grit and determination," put the girls of this school to work in preparing hot lunches which were sold at a few cents. A varied menu was provided.

Plainville township, Connecticut, selects one school in each village, and makes of it "a model school," to demonstrate what a rural school under ordinary conditions may become. The result has been that the standard in all the schools in the county has been elevated.

In Caroline county, Maryland, lantern slide views contrasting the best and poorest agricultural and domestic conditions are used to good effect.

Summing up the results of his investigation, Mr. Hodges declares: "The letters received reveal improvement everywhere in the schools for country children. There is a feeling that the country child will be best educated for whatever life he may lead, whether in the city or in the country, if taught in terms of country life. The movement toward this is nation wide. Country schoolhouses are used to some extent as civic centers in all states of the union. No special feature of rural school work is confined to any one state or section. The home project method of teaching agriculture, used in Massachusetts, is also used in Louisiana, Wisconsin, and other states. Boys' and girls' agricultural clubs are found in almost every state in the union."

COUNT YOUR BLESSINGS

If you think you are having a hard time of it—that you have not much to be thankful for, right now is the time to forget it. No matter what your condition or station in life may be, it can not be compared to the condition of millions of human beings in war-torn Europe.

There people are not only harassed by the death of loved ones, their property destroyed, no employment, or clothing to protect them from the icy blasts of winter, but millions of them are actually starving to death. There is no food for them except such as is sent in from countries not at war. It is horrible to think that in the Twentieth century millions of helpless women and children should be without food enough to sustain life for a day. There is not a soul in the town of Hillsboro that could imagine such a condition, for there never was a time when the poorest being could not obtain food without the money and without price if he or she made known the fact that no food was in their larder. Ah, yes; there are many who have been benevolently helped without employment, have had trouble and sickness and those who have had to go on short rations, but there never was a time and pray God, there never will be a time, when any human being in this country will have to die from starvation.—Hillsboro (O.) Dispatch.

WRONGS OF THE POOR.

Departures from the old way in things educational come in for hard rap, first and last, but not often are they assailed as in this letter which a glowing boy handed to his teacher the other day:

"Madam you keeps telling my 'son to beech with his dierfram I sepose rich boys and girls all has dierfraus but how about when their father only makes 2 dollers a day and thers 4 younger I tel you its econg to make everybody soeklists first its one thing and then its another and now its dierfraus its too much."—Woman's Home Companion.

The trouble with a good talker is that he is always a poor quitter.

A wise man never asks for a kiss until after he has taken it.

LOOK WHO'S HERE!

Our Own J. Burgess Everett On The atorial Stage—Member of Famous Triangle Club of Princeton.

The many friends of Mr. J. Burgess Everett of this city will be glad to learn that he has made his debut with the famous Triangle Club of Princeton University, and will appear in its play, "Pie! Pie! Pie!" in eight of our big cities during the holidays. The play will be presented in Cincinnati at the Emory auditorium Christmas night.

Burgess is a Maysville boy and is the oldest son of Councilman J. C. Everett of West Third street. No doubt but a bunch of his Maysville friends will go down and see him "put it on" at Cincy Christmas night.

WHY THEY QUARREL.

James Montgomery Plagge once produced a book of amusing illustrations and underlines called "Why They Quarrel." In each case the middle aged pair were presented and the artist-humorist told what had appeared to years before for choosing one another. It was most amusing and rather less pathetic and even more amusing. A Chicago couple quarreled and reached the divorce court because the woman wanted to name the baby "Dodo"—the heroine of a popular novel—and the man objected on the ground that the "Dodo" means an extinct and probably mythical bird. The judge was fortunate in persuading the couple to compromise upon "Dorothy."

Upon equally frivolous grounds many marriages have been rendered unhappy and many couples have separated. A young man philandering in the moonlight swears he will live his whole life for the girl, and the girl declares that hers will be a life lived for him. But the two are quite as likely to quarrel over a trifle as to find a serious problem the cause of disagreement.—State Journal.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION OF 1916

It Is Certain To Be Won By The Republican Party On The Issue of Protection.

(San Francisco Chronicle.)

For many years the one political tonic which has distinguished the Republican party from all other political organizations is the doctrine of the protection of home industries by a protective tariff.

And that is the one distinguishing tenet yet.

And by protection has always been understood sufficient protection to protect, and not merely to protect here and there an industry, but to assure a decided preponderance in the domestic markets for all commodities which by reason of a supply of the raw materials or of favorable soil or climate we are able to produce to advantage.

No protective tariff has ever been designed to prevent all imports of the protected article, nor has it had that result. As a matter of fact, the duty on imports has been the largest and most reliable source of the national revenues. The reduction of those duties by the Democratic tariff is the cause of the deficit now being made good by emergency taxes.

For the moment the war is having, with respect to some industries, the effect of a protective tariff. It is impossible, as to most industries, that this will continue even during the war, it is prolonged.

So far as this affects well established industries, the war doubtless gives temporary assistance. It will not cause the establishment of new industries requiring large capital because the moment the war ends foreign competition of cheaper goods would extinguish the value of such investments.

Except by the aid of a protective tariff, it is simply impossible for us to maintain the American standard of life. Our labor is no more productive than foreign labor working longer hours for lower wages. To the extent that necessity has compelled us to substitute machinery for hand labor to a greater extent than others, we have doubtless profited in the past, but American machinery, when better than others, is being adopted wherever found necessary in other countries, just as we adopt foreign inventions when necessary—the Diesel engine, for example.

The question is now right up to the American people. The Democratic tariff has not reduced the price of any commodity to consumers and it has thrown hundreds of thousands of American workmen out of employment. The protective tariff will never be restored by the aid of Progressives. The origin of the Progressive secession dates back to the open or covert attacks on protection by Senator Cummins and others. The Progressives do not say nor can any one guess what kind of a tariff act they would pass if they had the power.

We know what kind of a tariff the Republicans would enact. It would very much resemble the Payne-Aldrich law. Those who favor a protective tariff of that general kind are Republicans. Those who do not favor it are not Republicans.

SIC TRANSIT GLORIA TANGO!
Last winter in a period of rashness and inconceivable folly, we took a few dancing lessons. We learned the tango, the one-step and the hesitation with all the dips, drags, grapevines and lame ducks thereto appertaining and in such case made and provided. We thought we had Terpsichore lashed to the rudder of a Zepplin. As we glided about the hall or ricocheted from divan to davenport, just missing the piano lamp in our mad flights through some friendly parlor, we used to feel sorry for poor Mr. and Mrs. Castle. On the day of the day, we were. But last night we happened to drop in on some friends, whose Victorian we entered, was tearing off, "By the Sea, By the Beautiful Sea." We shall forever hate that tune, for it is inextricably intermingled with the wreck of our fondest conceit. We learned last night that we couldn't dance no more than a rabbit. There was a young fellow in that parlor who had brought with him from the city a slew of new steps and notions and gestures and poses delicious as the "half and half," the "fox trot," the "silly slip," the "Ford flop," or something like that. Why, we didn't even know the holds any more. Everything we did was passe or Alsine or Premysl. We were Major General Dph. Last year, if you didn't hesitate, well, you wouldn't come around. This year if you hesitate you are lost and no reward.—Exchange.

THE LAST SLEEP.
(Job III, 11-19.)
Why did I not, for now should I have lain still and been quiet, I should have slept; then had I been at rest, with kings and counselors of the earth, which built desolate places for themselves; or with princes that had gold, who filled their houses with ivory. There the wicked cease from troubling; and there the weary be at rest. There the prisoners rest together; they hear not the voice of the oppressor. The small and the great are there; and the servant is free from his master.

A CURIOUS PREDICAMENT.

In the January Woman's Home Companion Fannie Henslip Lea, writing a fiction story entitled "Society and the Pot of Gold," has a character, a married woman, who comments as follows on the money she had when she was a girl and the money she does not have now:

"When I was a girl I never needed to be careful of what I spent, and since I've been a woman I've never had enough to learn how to be careful."

NOW, WILL YOU LOOSEN UP?

We know two or three men in this town who have owed us a small amount of money since the time when Holm had only one pickle, and we have made arrangements with a local doctor to administer the "Willie sleep treatment" so they can part with the money that belongs to us without so much mental agony.—Siloam Springs (Ark.) Herald.

LUKE McLUKE SAYS

One in a while Mother decides to let Father down easy when he comes home after spending the evening posing in front of members of the Bartenders' Union, and she will make up her mind to forget that she has either eyes or ears. But after Father gets home Mother gets mad because she can't forget that she has a nose.

You might imagine that a homely girl would be grateful, to a man for marrying her. But after she gets you she will roast you just as much as if she was the prettiest thing in town when you snared her.

A woman will send flowers to a man who has murdered his wife. But she believes that any man who is the father of twelve children is too ornery to live.

A woman can come home in a cab and nobody thinks anything of it. But if her husband does it everybody knows that he is sused.

The trouble with the man who is always talking about his own achievements is that he isn't talking about ours.

You never realize how dangerous a thing a little learning is until you hear some girls trying to play the piano.

Another pretty safe bet is that you will not get into much trouble if you let the other man do all the talking.

SQUIRREL WHIPS GAMECOCK.

(New York Sun.)

General Villa, a handsome gamecock in the Central Park menagerie, was vanquished by a gray squirrel in a stubborn fight that took place yesterday, when the bushy-tail raided the enclosure of the haughty family for edibles.

The squirrel was hungry, as donations of peanuts in the park are now infrequent, and he went into the haughty enclosure for some of the legumes thrown in by visitors. The head of the family joined battle with the intruder.

The rooster tried to use his long, sharp spurs, but couldn't land on his lively opponent. When the blip would jump up in the air bushy-tail would run in and give him a nip in the body. The rooster became exhausted after a while and the squirrel got a strangle hold on his neck and would have finished him if a visitor hadn't called Head Keeper Billy Snyder, who entered the enclosure and stopped the fight.

ALL MAKE MISTAKES.

Newspapers are run by mortals here below and that mistakes occur sometimes is not astonishing. There are typographical and grammatical mistakes made, mistakes in printing that ought to be left out and mistakes of leaving out what ought to be printed.

The merchant sometimes makes mistakes in selecting his goods, the farmer makes mistakes in sowing his crops, all make mistakes sometimes. The newspaper man's mistakes are all down in print and read by a whole list of subscribers, while the other fellows' are not, so that is the reason the editors are charged with making so many mistakes. When it is realized that every letter that appears in print has separate attention and that news gathering and printing is necessarily done in a rush, the wonder is that more mistakes do not appear in print.

on our opening sale did not sell up to the expectation of a number of sellers, due in a measure to the extremely soft condition of a large percentage of the Tobacco on sale.

G. O. P. of Kentucky Reorganizing and Will Hold Platform Convention Next Summer—Progressives Will Be Welcomed Back.

Plans looking to the reorganization of the Republican party in Kentucky were discussed at Louisville this week at a meeting of the Republican State Central Committee, in which members of that body and party leaders from all sections of the state participated.

A decision was reached to call a state platform convention, to be held some time next summer prior to the primary election at which nominees for state office will be chosen. Reorganization of the city and county committees of Louisville and Jefferson county was proposed and changes on these committees will be effected as soon as practicable.

H. G. Garrett, Charles L. Scholt and J. W. McCallach were appointed members of a committee which will frame the convention call.

CANADA'S HARD TIMES.

When hard times come very few legislators have the statesmanship to limit for the cause of them. They are held by the opposition to the party in power, and to Providence by the party in power. According to a bulletin of the American Economic League the legislators of Alberta, Canada, are of a different breed. They have hunted for the cause of such hard times as prevail there, and find it in the lands held out of their best use by speculators. So a bill has been introduced levying a special tax on unused lands.

As long as "billions of hands want acres and millions of acres want hands" there can be no such thing as real prosperity.
